

RESULT IN THE SEVENTH.

The Official Vote for the District has Been Tabulated.

The result of the Seventh District Congressional primary was finally declared by the State executive committee as follows:

Table with columns for candidates (Brantley, Buchanan, Lexington, Orangeburg, Colleton, Berkeley, Sumter, Dorchester, Richland) and totals for each district.

South Carolina Census.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The census bureau today issued a bulletin on the school, militia and voting populations in South Carolina. It shows 560,773 of school age, including 354 foreign born.

More Race Prejudice.

New York State has furnished another instance of their race prejudice against the negro and the falsity of their claim that they are the negro's special friend.

Anarchists in Danger.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—General orders were issued tonight by Chief of Police O'Neill for every available man on the police force throughout the city to be kept on reserve in the event that there was any demonstration against the anarchists.

"We are prepared for any kind of an emergency," said Chief O'Neill. "If any one cares to create a disturbance, I believe we will be able to stop any acts of violence."

Three men, one of them the son of a prominent hotel keeper, visited the offices of the papers during the early part of the evening, with a call written out and signed by all three, asking that if there were definite news of the death of President McKinley by 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, they wanted ten thousand men to meet them in front of the county jail and take steps to lynch the anarchists confined in the building.

Crowds in Buffalo Break for Jail.

Buffalo, Sept. 14.—Shortly after midnight the great crowds on the streets became excited over a rumor that the president was dead. A rush was made toward the police station where Czolgoz is confined. It was promptly met by the police reserves mounted and on foot and driven back after a weak resistance.

Mrs. Mattie Hughes Skips.

Spartanburg, S. C., Sept. 12.—There is a defendant missing at the criminal court in Greenville this week, says the Spartanburg Journal. The celebrated Mattie Hughes case was to have come up, but the defendant is not there, and she is out here, where her home has been for more than a year past.

In Spartanburg her course did not improve and complaint resulted from her establishment at the depot. Fights became frequent and the police were in demand. A case for keeping a disorderly house was made by the grand jury.

To County Superintendents.

Dear Sir: It is now unlawful for a school to be operated with the old text books. Attend to this matter in advance, and do not wait until a teacher's certificate is presented to you for approval.

I write to ask if you are one of the County Superintendents who have made this arrangement in their counties? If you have not done so, I wish to urge you to do so at once.

OLD BOOKS CLEANED UP.

Some parents may not be fully informed of the fact that all old school books now in the hands of school children can be turned into money while the new books are being purchased.

THE WAR IN AFRICA.

Majesfontein, Cape Colony, Sept. 11.—Col. Crabb has surprised the camp of Van Der Merwe, the most trusted lieutenant of Commandant Scheeper, killed him and another Boer, and made prisoners of 27 out of the 100 men under Van Der Merwe's command.

London, Sept. 11.—Lord Kitchener reports to the war office from Pretoria as follows:

"Methuen engaged Vautouder and De Larey in Great Mariner valley Sept. 6 and Sept. 8, driving them from a strong position Sept. 8. The Boers left six dead Sept. 6, and twelve Sept. 8. Forty-one prisoners were captured."

Washington, Sept. 11.—All the members of the Schley court of inquiry are now in Washington. Rear Admiral Howison, the third member arriving last night. Today Admiral Howison paid a formal call as required by naval etiquette, at Admiral Dewey's residence on Rhode Island avenue.

Some Remarks on the American Girl.

By an Englishman.

One hesitates to express sometimes one's opinion on many of the great questions and facts of life, and in this case, when the fact is so patent and clear: when one's pen is poised with a fine measure of praise in it, yet we halt, feeling we cannot deal out such fair justice and rightful honor as fits the present case.

In this vast country, where a hundred miles is a toy in the sight of railroads, where the conditions and the opportunities and the ceaseless pressing toward the mark of a higher civilization is dismayed at nothing, we pause in reverence. For side by side with the material development which looks before and after with such careful eyes there is one thing which has outstripped it, leaving it lost in the receding distance.

In womanhood the American girl has caused the eclipse of nations. In a universe of great planets she has arisen as another planet and the rest are as little stars shedding bravely their fitful little lights, their tiny beams before a greater radiance.

When we have counted out the sum of human frailties and detected the smallness of our greatness and the greatness of our smallness, too, as we march through life with the steady grace of an ever abiding dignity, we can confess with an open and contrite heart that it is not manhood which soars, but womanhood.

No country in the world possesses such noble women as America. None can show their equals in dauntless character and in that fine freedom and clear vision of what life is and what it is not. The problem of sex and the strong law of attraction lose some of its worse powers when the artificiality, that lays its hand so heavily in other countries, has been removed.

Only in America it is possible to achieve a great friendship between a man and a woman, because every woman has not that most foolish belief that every man is a possible husband. The close companionship which is practical invites the sympathy and understanding that yield the rich harvest of true comradeship with that precise touch of reverence which a man can render to a woman, but which is so rare between a man and a woman.

The inevitable difference which exists in the temperaments of a man and a woman meet, not on the superficial ground built by the artificial formulas of other countries, but on that serene ground where the winds blow free and strong as a summer breeze on the levels of the Atlantic.

It is here where the clear, wholesome sanity of the American girl stands as a goodly contrast to others. Not for her the maudlin neuroticism, when, so to express it, the love nerves are stricken with a morbidness that marks one of the generation of degenerates, but the clean, healthy view of life with commandments of her own, for the crash of their breaking one may listen without avail.

Her originality of mind, her grasp of things and the greatness with which she uses her power, make her not merely fit to be companions of men, but leaders of them also. Exactly where the English girl fails she rises triumphant by virtue of a finer intuition of a deeper insight into the meaning of things.

"Into the meaning of things!" This is what makes her the most attractive and the most spiritual woman in a wide world, because it is that attentive adjusting of the spiritual and the physical which produces the most beautiful of characters. It is the recognition that after all the heart and soul blending with a fine accord can make vaster music than one devoid of the other: that we are all wondrous kin in our humanity, but if we have sorrows let them be noble and let our joys be noble, too. To cross out false emotion, to have no dealings with common trivialities, this the American girl seems to hold more strongly than others.

To those who love to run riot with sprightly opinions, who love to rend a great country with studied invective, I would simply say, "do you know an American girl?"

Winburg, Orange River Colony, Sept. 9.—Barker's column has returned here from a 100 mile march through the Senekal district. The soldiers were astonished to find green wheat fields everywhere, no troops, having visited that region since December, so the Boers had time to plough and sow. They retreated to the mountains on the approach of the British, who captured 100 men, women and children, enormous quantities of grain and 1,500 head of cattle.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 12.—"We have not sufficient evidence to warrant the holding of Emma Goldman," said District Attorney Penney this afternoon just after he had a conference with Superintendent Bull. "We have not prepared any papers and of course, have sent none on. Neither do we intend to prepare any extradition papers. You may say on our present evidence we cannot hold the Goldman woman and no extradition papers will be prepared today."

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 12.—Antonio Maggio, the alleged anarchist, has been taken from Silver City to Albuquerque. He was cross-examined, but refused to divulge anything upon the subject of the president's assassination, although witnesses were present to testify that he repeatedly predicted that the president would be assassinated before Oct. 1. He was bound over for hearing on the charge of conspiracy to murder.

HUBBARD'S COTTON LETTER.

New York, Sept. 11.—European markets paid more attention to the offers and the south than to the steadiness of the American market, and came disappointing in tone to be followed by a decline. Receipts are comparatively light, representing the lateness of the crop in the Atlantic, and the disposition of Texas to hold on account of the disaster to the crop in that State.

Queer Form of Hysteria.

Dr. Dimopolous, a medical practitioner of the town of Kutahla, in Asia Minor, sends to a Smyrna journal particulars of an "epidemic" among women of that town, which has probably no parallel in modern experience. About three years ago a young woman became subject to a form of hiccupping like the crow of a cock, which resisted treatment: soon after a second began to hiccup like a cat mewing, and in six months there were sixty women in the town affected with what may be described as animal hiccoughs, exceedingly varied. Braying, barking and sounds like those made by the fox are included in the list.

An Economical Dog.

It is not often that a dog will be found showing as much intelligence as the pet of Miss Mary Owen, of No. 30 North 9th street. This dog believes in economy in the home and was not slow, the other day, in acting upon his belief. There was a visitor at the Owen residence who met great favor in the eyes of the family pet. The dog made friends with the guest immediately and stayed by her side during her visit to receive caresses. Just as the visitor was preparing to leave the thoughtful animal decided that his new friend should be rewarded for her caresses, so excusing himself with a bark, he left the room. In a short time he returned with a basket containing peaches. Straight to the visitor went the dog and placed the basket upon the sofa beside her. The guest accepted the canine's treat and selected two fine peaches from the basket. The dog then picked up the basket, but instead of carrying it away stood there and whined. Neither hostess nor guest could tell what was the matter, but the canine soon enlightened them. Releasing the basket he jumped upon the sofa beside the guest and, taking one of her peaches, dropped it back with the others. Then he picked up the basket and carried it into the kitchen.—St. Joseph, Mo., News.

The crime of wife desertion is a growing one among the negroes and is an evil that should be abated by some more stringent legislation. As it is here now the penalty does not fit the crime and the grade of the offense ought to be raised to measure up somewhere to the seriousness of the offense. The legislature of Minnesota has raised it to the grade of a felony punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than three years with a provision for suspension of sentence if the husband gives a bond for the support of his wife and family. That is a wise law for it enables the courts to enforce their jurisdiction over the culprits by means of a requisition upon the governor of any State to which he may go.

"Into the meaning of things!" This is what makes her the most attractive and the most spiritual woman in a wide world, because it is that attentive adjusting of the spiritual and the physical which produces the most beautiful of characters. It is the recognition that after all the heart and soul blending with a fine accord can make vaster music than one devoid of the other: that we are all wondrous kin in our humanity, but if we have sorrows let them be noble and let our joys be noble, too. To cross out false emotion, to have no dealings with common trivialities, this the American girl seems to hold more strongly than others.

The proposed combination of the bituminous coal interests of Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and Kentucky, it is noted, would put under a single management mines that will produce 150,000,000 tons of the total of about 210,000,000 tons of that kind of coal in the year 1901: about three-fourths of all the bituminous coal mined in the United States. It leaves out for the present 60,000,000 tons mined in the south and in Missouri, Iowa and Kansas and the Trans-Missouri States, but will include them a little later. Truly wise states and smaller districts in this part of the country will do well to begin to take care of the remnant of their standing timber, if only for fuel purposes. They will pay smartly for their neglect if they do not.

Admiral Sampson's Health.

Boston, September 11.—Dr. Henry G. Beyer, chief surgeon at the Charlestown navy yard, returned from his visit to Admiral Sampson this morning. He said the Admiral's condition was about the same as when he left the yard. He would not state whether the Admiral would attend the Court of Inquiry or if he would return to the yard to take up his duties.

A Bear in Lancaster.

Lancaster Ledger, Saturday: There is some excitement in the Primus section over the fact that a very large bear was seen by Mr. J. D. Hinson near his home last Tuesday evening. He followed it some little distance into the woods and fired several shots from his pistol at it, to which it paid no attention. It was going in a kind of fox trot and did not quicken his gait. Mr. Hinson and some of his neighbors tried to track it to its hiding place the next morning, but soon lost the track in the woods.

SHOOTING IN DARLINGTON.

Darlington, Sept. 10.—John Odom shot Luther Jones at the oil mill this afternoon. Odom is in jail, having been taken up by the police and afterwards turned over to the sheriff. Odom made an attack on the mother of Jones and badly hurt her, when Jones came to the help of his mother and was shot with duck shot in the leg. The report from the wound is that it is a serious one.

London, Sept. 11.—The Marquis Anglesy was robbed of jewels valued at 30,000 pounds sterling which were taken from a room at Walsingham house while he was at the theatre last evening.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Senator Mc Laurin of South Carolina called on General Gillespie, acting secretary of war and Mr. Hackett acting secretary of the navy today to secure their cooperation in having the government exhibits at the Pan-American exposition transferred to the coming exposition at Charleston, S. C. Both officials assured the senator that they would be glad to comply with his requests as to the exhibits of their respective departments and that they would do all they could to make the South Carolina exposition successful.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 11.—White men raided the negro district of Decatur, Texas, last night, terrorized the black residents and ordered them to leave town. Many negroes are departing.

Manila, Sep. 11.—A force of brigands recently attacked and plundered the town of Castillina, Island of Negros, which was guarded by Filipino police. Three of the latter were killed and five wounded. Troops are now searching for the brigands in the mountains.

The State against Mrs. Mattie Hughes for murder is still on the docket, although a mistrial has occurred three times, and there is hardly a chance of conviction or acquittal in the next five years. Each trial is said to have cost the county a thousand dollars, and it would seem that enough has been invested in that direction.

Judge Gary yesterday filed his decision in the case of certain citizens who protested against Sidney park being used for a terminal by the Seaboard Air Line railroad. He holds that the railroad had no right to the property by condemnation, and that the neighboring property owners are entitled to damages.—The State.
